

Sundance

Resort complements Mount Timpanogos, the crown jewel of the Wasatch Front.

By Kathryn Clayton

Deseret News travel editor

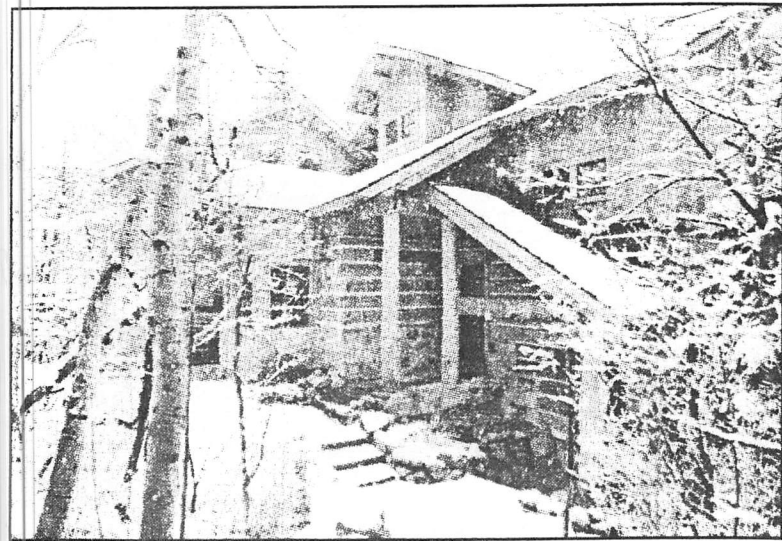

Despite its proximity to the Wasatch Front, this mountain hideaway on the backside of Timpanogos lets you think you're far from the hubbub of civilization.

You aren't, of course. But anyone who has driven the Alpine Loop or hiked Timpanogos is acquainted with the area's scenic splendors. The mountain is the crown jewel of the Wasatch Front.

And Sundance is a lovely accessory.

The resort is a study in contrasts. It's rustic yet elegant; earthy yet sophisticated; cozy yet comfortable.
